American Canadian Underwater Certifications is an international recreational diving membership and diver training organization. ACUC instructors may apply to ACUC for approval to teach their own distinctive specialty programs. It was later incorporated in 1986 in Canada by Robert Cronkwright. It soon began developing a training curriculum better suited to the Canadian conditions that many other training agencies neglected. Formerly known as the Association of Canadian Underwater Councils, it was formed as a not for profit collective of regional dive councils to create a national forum for their common interest and concerns. In 1971 he crossed over to the Association of Canadian Underwater Councils and became a Training Director, Secretary/Treasurer and later Vice President. Cronkwright was a National Association of Underwater Instructors (NAUI) instructor from 1969 to 1971.
