Thanks guys as always. DR Jp. I recall hearing one historian's description of ancient olympic 'boxing' which had become so stylised the boxers took turns to hit each other. The first man struck a powerful blow to the head. After recovering his balance, the second man jabbed through the wall of his opponent's stomach, and pulled out his intestines - killing him on the spot. (For more, see for example Damoxenos of Syracuse and Kreugas of Epidamnos). That's the sort of frivolity that should be stopped... -- Solipsist 10:13, 18 Aug 2004 (UTC) I have been a Wikipedian for 11½ years, and an administrator for almost as long. However, I took an extended break from 2007 until recently, apart from a few sporadic edits. When I returned this year, I was shocked to find that the number of active administrators/sysops is about the same as what it was back in 2007! I would have expected to find at least 10,000 — but no. is it just me, or is this bug back again? Why does the latest version of IE not support Unicode in the bottom at the status bar and in the address bar too? Firefox can display proper characters instead of escape codes! Is it because the folks at Microsoft just can't be bothered? I mean, how much effort could it possibly take to do that??? I always tick "Keep me logged in for up to 30 days" and in the past that has worked. For the last few days I have had to re-login every day. I wonder if it is related to accessing WP from different computers. But I have long regularly used two computers and only had to log in on each every 30 days.
